CLEMENCEAU, IN CHICAGO, PREACHES GOSPEL OF PEACE

5000 Persons Give Him a Warm Reception and Cheer Complimentary References to England.

MICROPHONES MAKE TIGER RESTLESS

Former Premier Cites Losses in War and Says Troops Won't Leave Rhine Until Protection Is Guaranteed.

From a Staff Correspondent of the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Georges Clemenceau took for his text yesterday afternoon at the Auditorium here (Grant's "Let Us Have Peace"), and he kept his foot on the soft pedal. Local newspapers had announced that he intended reading 50 violations of the treaty by Germany and that he had refused to be "set upon" by well-wishing friends. But he emerged as a very careful Tiger, after Boston, and gave an address somewhat similar in its halting tone and indeliberate to the New York speech. Eloquent, he carried us no further, which, the correspondent believes, was his intention.

The afternoon was mainly notable as a comedy of the microphones, into which the Tiger resolutely refused to talk despite the encouraging cheers of 5000 who could hardly hear him.

Directly he came on the stage, he immediately ordered the desk that he had been prepared for him to be moved forward toward the audience. This could not be done owing to the wires attaching it to the microphones up above.

Clemenceau, however, insisted on speaking right next to the footlights, as a table was brought. He showed the greatest annoyance while the magnifying instruments were being fixed to the table. Eventually he got going, but absolutely determined to stand behind the table. Instead he stepped up and down beside it, his voice not going through the microphones at all. Occasionally when he stepped on the table his voice accidentally got on the table his voice accidentally got magnified and the house would cheer lustily to the Tiger's bewilderment, since he had said nothing meriting applause.

A Restless Tiger.

Finally, Gen. Dawes persuaded him to keep in position for a while behind the table. But it was a restless Tiger who desired to walk up and down like a real tiger. Off he would go to one side and the house would laugh heartily. Finally Clemenceau said:

"If I think of that table, I cannot think of what I wish to say. Which do you prefer?"

All this undoubtedly put him off his speech. And there were other incidents. When he called for water a vast white jug of the type seen in ancient hotel bedrooms was placed on the table. The Tiger glared at the Col. Borsani put it under the table.

He was so angry at this stage—it was before he had begun to speak—that they hastily played his favorite march, "Sambro et Meuse," to pacify him. A French correspondent muttered, "One more contretemps and he will walk off the stage."

Happily, however, we were spared that catastrophe. As Clemenceau appeared on the stage, he was greeted by the orchestra struck up "The Yanks Are Coming," while the whole audience rose and applauded.

It was a very sympathetic house. This was indicated by the manner in which former Secretary of War Jacob M. Dickinson's opening address was received.

Preliminary Speeches.

France, said Dickinson, would be America's first line of defense again as she had been in the past. The history had only partially changed. Chicago people were not overrelied by a sense of their own importance and they would welcome criticism and strictures. If France had been left unprotected then the war had been fought in vain. A treaty to protect France was a treaty to protect America.

Gen. C. G. Dawes followed with an impassioned appeal. Americans, he said, admired Clemenceau for his courage and his sincerity. "In these days of political trimmings, when our politicians only discuss the things they think will please us, we need a man who believes what he says and says what he thinks," he declared.

He concluded with a vivid picture of that dark hour when the Tiger took over the conduct of affairs. The French army, said Dawes, was nearly destroyed and 40,000 Russians in France had shot their officers. Clemenceau on "Gospel of Peace." It was then Clemenceau's turn. He straightway took issue with Gen. Dawes. He was tired of admiration for past services. He wanted to convince Americans of the truth of his message. He came to preach the gospel of peace—Grant's gospel. He met Grant after the Civil War, 25 years ago, a man of few words and strong action.

"It is a pity that war is such a cruel thing," broke off the Tiger, "but it was a beautiful time to see such devotion." His eyes were streaming, evidently with memories that Gen. Dawes had evoked. After having suffered 5,000,000 casualties, proceeded the Tiger, France actually had 354,000 more men in the line on the day of the armistice than in August, 1914. He next drew a parallel between French dev-station and American. America would have lost 3,000,000 had she suffered in ratio to France, "instead of 52,000, and the country to Pittsburgh and Washington would have been laid waste."

Turning to Germany, Clemenceau said that the French didn't want to crush the man who owed them money. He had to admit a certain admiration for Germany's power of recuperation.

Then he referred to attacks "brutally conducted" on him in the Senate. He had the facts and he would send as many demils' back as necessary. The Tiger grew quite angry here again.

Refers to Hidden Munitions.

The allied commission of control had discovered, hidden away, enough artillery to fit out two army corps. At this stage some of the Tiger's quaint phraseology caused amusement. He always says "fabri-cated" for "manufactured" and "barbery" for "barbarity." Meanwhile, of course, the force for the magnifiers, detailed above, was being played out.

Nothing daunted by interruptions, the Tiger kept on with his message. He had not predicted war, as reported, but he solemnly warned Americans that the Turks, the Russians and the Germans were preparing an interference in Middle Europe.

"By and by," he added, "you will see I wasn't wrong, but I will not be here." At this stage the Tiger hopped disconcertingly from point to point, reading figures of devastation in between. Referring suddenly to the new Europe, he said that France had liberated all these new states.

"Ask them upon whom they depend the most," he challenged, "and they will tell you France—and America," the Tiger added, as an afterthought.

On several occasions he went out of his way to compliment the English and their war record, and one felt that he was here alking in order to correct an impression previously made.

A singular feature was the enthusiasm shown by the hearers at each mention of England—but then Mayor Thompson was not present.

The League of Nations.

Touching lightly on the League of Nations, Clemenceau said: "Every one's hope was raised, but I beg your pardon—I had my doubts."

"The great drama," he went on, "has not been played to a finish. You retired too soon. With the treaty unapplied we are in a state neither of war nor peace. Have you got what you fought for?"

"If I ask you that question, you are bound to say 'No.' You fought for democracy, for the rights of man, as we borrowed for our standards in the revolution after

NANCY JORDAN SAYS AN ENGLISHMAN IS FATHER OF CHILD

Declines to Comment on Statement Attributed to Her Mother—Affectionate Meeting With Mrs. Warren

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Nancy Jordan, British unwed mother of the three-year-old child of a wartime romance, and Mrs. Frank G. Warren, wealthy former wife of the Kansas City lawyer who met the girl while in London during the war, refused emphatically today to comment on a cable dispatch from London purporting to quote the girl's mother on the paternity of the boy. Both Mrs. Warren and the young mother repeatedly have denied that Warren is the father of the child.

The two women here yesterday with the outward intimacy of lifelong chums. The young mother had been taken to the home of R. D. Jenkins, an attorney, at 676 Riverside drive, on telegraphed instructions from Mrs. Warren and had posted two $500 bonds to guarantee against the mother and her son becoming public chums.

Upon her arrival here, Mrs. Warren went directly to the Jenkins home.

Affectionate Meeting.

"I am so glad to see you, Miss Jordan," was Mrs. Warren's greeting to the young mother, and her declaration rang with sincerity.

"And it is, indeed, a pleasure to meet you, Mrs. Warren," was Miss Jordan's smiling reply. The women had never seen each other before, although they had been corresponding ever since the birth of the boy, and their meeting was affectionate in the extreme.

Meanwhile, speculation continues on the paternity of this child. The result of Miss Jordan's latest statement, that an Englishman is the father, she said in answer to a direct question whether or not Warren was the father, Mr. and Mrs. Warren were divorced after his return from overseas, but both are entangled in declaring that the English girl had no connection whatever with the "incompatibility" named in the papers.

Looked Like School Girl.

Arriving at the Jenkins home, Miss Jordan, wearing a long coat of rough frieze, a plain little gray felt hat and woolen gloves, looked more like a school girl than a mother. Her brilliant English coloring accentuated the absence of rouge and lipstick, and her smile was all dimples and happiness. Later, in the Riverside Drive apartment, in a light dinner dress that revealed her childlike arms and neck, she looked even less mature. She sat toying shyly with her teacup as Mrs. Warren, who is young, dark and extremely attractive, talked of her future.

"There is nothing startling in this story," Mrs. Warren said. "Perhaps its very simplicity make it appear complex. My interest in Miss Jordan is due absolutely to my liking and admiration for her. I have corresponded with her since the birth of her son and she is here as my guest for a while at least."

Later Mrs. Warren was asked if she intended to adopt the child. "I haven't had time to talk that over with Miss Jordan yet," she replied. "And anyway, I don't know whether she would give him up. Would you?" She asked turning to the girl.

Wouldn't Give Up Child.

"No, I would not, never," replied Miss Jordan.

The two women entered into an extremely friendly conversation and later Mrs. Warren told reporters that her impressions of the young mother were of the highest, and, in fact, exceeded her expectations.

"I know we are going to get along fine together," she added. "Mr. Warren's mother and I have taken a great interest in Miss Jordan through our correspondence, and we were indeed gratified when she accepted our invitation to visit us."

Speaking of herself, Miss Jordan said she met Warren in 1918 when she was employed as a bookkeeper in the London office of the Famous Players Lasky Corporation. They met frequently and a close friendship was the result. He spoke often of his wife and a correspondence was started.

"I came to this country," she went on, "only to see Mrs. Warren. I learned to love her through her letters, and I gladly accepted her invitation. I did not come to see Mr. Warren."

She was asked point blank if she intended to marry Warren. She blushed vividly.

VIGILANTES KILL MAN, BURN HOUSES IN ARKANSAS RAID

Proprietor of Place in Smackover Oil Field Shot in Doorway; He Opens Fire.

By the Associated Press.

CAMDEN, Ark., Nov. 29.—"Slim" Sanders, alleged owner of an undesirable establishment at Ouchita City, in the Smackover oil field, was shot to death in an encounter with a committee of "vigilantes" who last night began "a cleanup" campaign in the oil fields, according to advices received here today.

The report of Sanders' death was brought here by persons who left Ouchita City shortly after the raid started.

Several houses were burned and many men and women, forced to leave the field, passed through Camden this afternoon.

According to reports received here, Sanders, standing in the doorway of his establishment, shouted to the raiders: "Come on, boys, I've only one life to live, anyway," and drew a pistol. The vigilantes then opened fire, it was said, killing Sanders.

Hyde to revoke the parole. This was done today and steps taken to arrest Wood at Leavenworth, Kan., and bring him back to Jefferson City.

Mrs. Warren will remain in this city with Mrs. Jordan for several days, following which she will go to the Kansas City home of the former.

GRAND JURY FAILS TO RETURN HALL CASE INDICTMENTS

Inquiry May Be Pushed Along Lines or Dropped for the Present, It Is Indicated.

By the Associated Press.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 29.—Is the investigation of the Hall-Mills murder case to be pushed along new lines or is the inquiry to be dropped, at least for the present?

This question today apparently hung on a conference which Attorney-General McKim has indicated he will hold with Special Deputy Attorney-General Mott, who yesterday failed to obtain from the Somerset County grand jury, in Somerset, indictment of three persons whom the State indicated it believed responsible for the shooting of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, approximately 10 weeks ago.

Detectives and State troopers indicated today they were at present without orders, Mott, after the jury decided to lay the matter over, expressed himself as being in a state of suspended animation. No official expression of opinion was forthcoming from Prosecutor Deakman, succeeded in the inquiry by Mott, after criticism of the Somerset and Middlesex county authorities for their early handling of the investigation.

New Turn Discussed.

Both New Brunswick and Somerville were discussing the dramatic collapse of the State's case yesterday. Many residents of Somerville, who have contended that the double slaying after all was not half as much the affair of Somerset County as of Middlesex, in which the slain pair had resided, indicated that they would be content if the case were allowed to drop.

In New Brunswick, however, there was evident a strong disinclination to permit the case to fall into the class of unsolved crimes.

Persons who wish the investigation continued pointed hopefully to the fact that Mrs. Jane Gibson, halled by the State as its star witness, still was under close observation at her pig farm. This, they speculated, indicated the inquiry was to be pushed further.

Lawyer's Statement.

The only expression coming from the home of Mrs. Frances Hall, most period he created enough city jobs and other jobs to absorb all idleness. "The streets are disgracefully clean," he said, "but everybody is getting something to do."

Cousens further attracted attention to himself in August when he received an invitation from Mayor Thompson of Chicago to accept the keys of the city and come to visit the Pageant of Progress. Cousens replied that he never would visit Chicago so long as Thompson was in office. It was stated that Henry Ford was willing to forget past differences with his former associate and was prepared to urge him to accept the nomination. Cousens made no statement on the proposal. He has never had affiliation with any party as a candidate for office. He was twice elected Mayor of Detroit on a non-partisan ticket.

Mayor Cousens was born in Chatham, Ontario, 50 years ago. His first public office was that of Police Commissioner, to which he was appointed in 1916. He was first elected Mayor of Detroit in 1918 on a non-partisan ticket and his re-election last year was by 30,000 votes, the largest majority ever given a mayoralty candidate there.

widow of the slain rector of the Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist, was uttered by her lawyer, Timothy N. Pfeffer. He said he sincerely hoped the authorities would continue their search for the guilty.

Florence North, attorney for Charlotte Mills, daughter of the slain choir singer, contributed the cryptic remark that refusal of the grand jury to return an indictment was no surprise to her. She added that she would turn over to the authorities important evidence in her possession.

Miss North has clung to the theory that the murdered pair were kidnaped by hired assassins, killed and laid out under the old crabapple tree on Phillips' farm.

Foreman's Statement.

After the grand jury adjourned at Somerville yesterday, Foreman Gibbs issued this statement:

"For reasons which seem to them sufficient and controlling, the grand jury took no action in the Hall-Mills murder case and laid the matter over. This does not mean necessarily that the matter cannot be taken up again by this or a subsequent grand jury."

MULLION SHIP DROPS GREETINGS TO HYDE

English-Built Craft Expected to Cover 297 Miles in Eight Hours.

Scott Field's Mullion airship, known as the SST, left the field at 8:05 a. m. today on its first extended flight since being brought to the United States.

Word was received from Jefferson City that the big airship circled in the air there and dropped Thanksgiving greetings to the Governor from Col. C. G. Hall, Scott Field Commandant, on the capitol grounds at 12:35 p. m. four and a half hours after it had taken off. It had covered about 140 miles in that time, if it went in a straight line. Scott Field officers assumed that stiff wind resistance was encountered. The message was enclosed in a "message sack," to which were attached a weight and long streamers to guide it.

The airship went to California, Mo., 35 miles west of Jefferson City, and the home of the pilot, who telegraphed the field that the party arrived at California at 1:20 p. m. and left, after dinner, at 2:10. Word came that the airship passed Jefferson City, going east, at 2:35 p. m. It had been planned that the ship should fly over Columbia, Mo., again, but this plan evidently was abandoned because of delay by wind.

The Mullion, which is named for its designer, was built in England in 1918 and has been flown a great deal overseas. It was bought for the United States Army from the British Government, and sent to Brooks Field, San Antonio, Tex., but not set up. Scott Field received it last July and recently erected it. It was taken on a 100-mile test flight yesterday, going to St. Alban's, Mo., on the Missouri River, and back.

It is a long craft, with cigar-shaped bag for the hydrogen gas which supports it, having 105,000 cubic-foot capacity. This is a great capacity than that of the A-4, recently brought to Scott Field. It carries six passengers, and is equipped with two Rolls Royce-Hawthorn motors, each of which has six cylinders and develops 75 horsepower. The designation SST was coined by the English, meaning submarine scout twin, the twin referring to the motors.

The airship was taken up yesterday morning for the first time with the intention of "working it in." It takes a certain mileage of test flying to get the entire apparatus in proper condition for long flights.

The Mullion is commanded by Maj. John A. Faegle, executive officer of the field, whose home is in California, Mo.

DANDRUFFY HEADS BECOME HAIRLESS

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, healthy hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It does no good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid astringent; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid astringent at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, or rather, how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

RADIO CONCERTS HEARD ON TRAIN FROM FAR POINTS

Broadcasting From K. S. D. and Other Stations, including Atlanta and Schenectady, Picked Up on Wabash.

NO AERIAL USED OUTSIDE COACH

New Different Stations Heard on Moving Train During Tests Made at Night and During Day.

"Radio frequency" is an element of value in radio circles, and given a thorough test yesterday on the Wabash train from Kansas City to St. Louis, when a receiving instrument, without ground wire or outside aerial, picked up marked reports and concerts from the Post-Dispatch and stations as far distant as Atlanta, Ga., and Schenectady, N. Y.

Factions of radio authorities have sided with "radio frequency" as distinguished from "radio frequency." Radio frequency implies an electric wave many thousands of times before it reaches the detector tube. After it passes through the detector tube it is again amplified, having been reduced to "radio frequency." It is claimed by supporters of "radio frequency" that it increases the range of a receiving set many times and gives to one wave the same volume as would ordinarily be the case in receiving from stations a short distance away.

There were numerous handicaps to a successful demonstration. It was arranged by the Wabash Railroad in conjunction with the Tan-Ash Radio Co. of St. Louis, and the Post-Dispatch. The set was placed in an all-wood car without the customary outside aerial or ground wire.

Division of Test.

The test was divided into two parts. There was a test at night in which the instrument attempted to receive a concert broadcast by Station K. S. D. with the assistance of the Hotel Statler orchestra. This test was made with good results on the Wabash train which left for Kansas City at 10:30 o'clock Monday night.

The second half of the test was made yesterday from 10 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening on the return trip to St. Louis. Kansas City stations were heard early, but the weak and marked reports of the Post-Dispatch station were picked up and distinctly heard at Norborne, Mo., 220 miles from St. Louis, at 11:45 o'clock.

That was the best performance of the set up to that time. But it exceeded it when in the late afternoon it clearly reproduced concerts from two newspapers in Atlanta, Ga., the Journal and the Constitution. This was considered remarkable.

The concerts were clear and distinct and each note of the music and each word of the songs were as clear as if reproduced from a record by a phonograph.

A total of nine stations were heard. Three were heard from Kansas City, one from Wichita, Kan., one from Jefferson City, two from Atlanta; the General Electric Manufacturing Co. from Schenectady, and the Post-Dispatch.

Instrument in Parlor Car.

The receiving instrument was placed in the parlor car of the train. A loud speaker was attached and many persons on the train came back into the car to hear the concert. Walter Ashe and George Van Sickle were the operators.

Hunt C. Moore, former prosecuting attorney of Jackson County, was an interested listener. He said that the performance of the receiving station surpassed anything he had ever heard and said that it was more remarkable in view of the absence of an aerial or ground wire.

The concert from Atlanta, particularly impressive, he said. "It is almost impossible to conceive of such a faithful reproduction of voices and music at such distances. The tones were just as natural as if they were coming from the next room."

"Lighter Notes of Travel."

Louis H. Meisler, of Chicago, agreed with Moore. "The installation of radio receiving sets in trains will lighten the burden of travel and make it more enjoyable," he said.

"The distinctness of the program is of course a surprise. It is almost impossible to believe that it could be reproduced so accurately at such a distance."

Louis J. Strubing, Sales Engineer of the Fulton Iron Works, and J. L. Garrison, of the Ironstone Engine Co., were others in the car who expressed approval of the program.

Railroad men say, however, that it is unlikely that radio sets will be installed in trains, even with the success of this venture. They point to the cost of maintenance and say that it is unlikely that companies would assume the added expense.

L. A. Duffman, General Passenger Agent of the Wabash Railroad Co., and Louis Raucha, Advertising Manager, represented the company in the test.

DALLAS KLANSMAN SUCCEEDS SIMMONS

Dr. H. W. Evans Elected "Imperial Wizard" — Simmons Made "Emperor" for Life.

By the Associated Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 22.—Dr. H. W. Evans of Dallas, Tex., was elected "imperial wizard" of the Ku Klux Klan yesterday by the imperial convocation, meeting in annual session here, succeeding Col. William J. Simmons, founder of the present Klan organization.

The new office of "emperor" was created for Col. Simmons, to which he was elected for life.

E. T. Clarke, who has served as "imperial wizard" for ten years during several months' illness of Simmons, was named as "imperial giant."

New Imperial Wizard Leading Figure in Dallas Klan.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 22.—Dr. H. W. Evans, who was elected "imperial wizard" of the Ku Klux Klan at Atlanta, has been a practicing dentist here for the last decade or more. He has been a leading figure in the Dallas Klan since its organization early last year. Dr. Evans is an active church worker and frequently lectures before Sunday school classes.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The Board of Aldermen has adopted a resolution approving the stand taken by Mayor Hylan in ordering Police Commissioner Enright to drive the Ku Klux Klan from the city.

PLAN FOR APARTMENT HOTEL AT PINE AND EUCLID AVENUES

Will Be Financed by Straus Brothers of S. W. Straus & Co. as Originally Sited.

The Guild-Hall Apartment Hotel, a structure said to represent a total investment of $650,000, is to be erected by the Guild-Hall Investment Co., at the northwest corner of West Pine boulevard and Euclid avenue, will be of the "U" design with the court facings Euclid avenue. The building is to be five stories high.

The building will contain 21 apartments of four rooms each, 24 apartments of three rooms each, 28 single units with baths. There will be a ballroom, dining room, play room and private storage space in the basement. The apartments will be furnished.

Excavation has been started and it is anticipated that the building will be ready for occupancy by April 1, 1934.

This building was financed by Straus Brothers of Chicago, whose St. Louis representative is E. J. Lehman. It was erroneously stated in a story on the Post-Dispatch real estate page of Sunday, Nov. 8, that the financing had been arranged by S. W. Straus & Co., New York investment bankers. The two firms are entirely different organizations.

Negotiations for the purchase of the site from Elmer A. Bruhn and the promotion of the building were handled by the Weisbe-Gerhart Real Estate Co.

PURSUED BY ILL LUCK 4 YEARS, TIMES AGAIN FOR HOME TURKEY

Nothing But a Broken Arm to Interfere With Collingsville Man's Day This Year.

William H. Martin of Collingsville expects to eat Thanksgiving dinner at home tomorrow for the first time in five years. A series of accidents and incidents prevented his being at home for the turkey meal on the last four anniversaries of this day, and this year he almost missed out, suffering, however, merely a broken arm in an automobile accident recently.

In the last two years Martin was struck with illness which prevented his being present, and the two years before that delayed trains brought him back from hunting trips too late to be at home for dinner. But today he is, figuratively, holding a rabbit's foot in one hand and a horseshoe in the other, waiting for the call to turkey. Someone may have to cut it up for him. But just being home is enough to be thankful for, Martin feels.

AMERICAN HISTORY FOR AMERICAN CHILDREN

Irritating Economic Habits of the Colonists Gave the English King Many Causes for Grievances.

The Colonists "Made" Money With a Handpress.

By HENDRIK VAN LOON,
Author of "The Story of Mankind."

(Copyright, 1922.)

KING GEORGE and his Tory friends had their own ideas about Colonial policies. They did not understand that men and women living independent lives amidst the wilderness of a new continent could not be governed as if they were so many patient tenants on an English country estate. They were sincerely shocked when they heard of many things that were happening on the other side of the ocean and they bade His Majesty go ahead and bring the obstreperous "colonists" to reason.

Since we are trying to be fair we ought to state that a self-respecting monarch had many causes for grievances in dealing with his subjects across the Atlantic. The Colonists were possessed of certain irritating economic habits. They thought that money was a paper substance which could be printed on a little hand press in any given or desired quantity. They were forever "making" money by issuing new bank notes which looked quite pretty but had not more actual value than the personal check of a private citizen who does not keep a bank account.

The world is full of editions of home-made money. People keep it in trunks in their grandfather's attic. Sometimes they use it to paper the walls of their houses. But the Colonists, whenever they were hard up, rushed to the nearest printing shop and printed a couple of millions, and then they used these bits of paper to pay their bills abroad.

The English merchants, however, fought shy of it. They refused to take it in payment for the goods which they had sold to America and they went to their Government and loudly did they complain. The Government came to their assistance and in the year 1763 passed a bill which declared void all these laws of the Colonies which authorized the printing of money. The Colonists who liked their so-called "cheap money" considered themselves greatly abused by the new statute. When almost immediately thereupon Parliament passed a new bill which tried to regulate the trade between the Colonists and the Indians of the Far West (a most profitable trade from the side of the white man but disastrously unfair to the Redskins) there was a second loud outcry against this new manifestation of "royal tyranny." Business was business and the people along the Ohio and the Wabash needed no King to tell them how to transact a profitable deal with a half-naked savage. Indeed, the resentment was great, but much worse was to follow before the Colonies could make up their minds to offer armed resistance.

To Be Continued Friday.

Readers who clip and preserve these articles will have a splendid collection of historical facts. Valuable for reference or for supplementing the study of history by children.

have a sour stomach with gas, belching, fullness, pressure and the misery that comes from an acid stomach due to indigestion. The reason is that these tablets supply the stomach with an alkaline effect that neutralizes the acid, hence the stomach becomes calm and sweet. If you fear you are a chronic dyspeptic and afraid to eat get a 60-cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets of any drugist and get back into your eating stride.

MEMOIRS OF FORMER KAISER CRITICISED BY VON BERNSTORFF

Monarch Never Learned the Words
"Too Late," Says One Time
Envoy to America.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
(Copyright, 1922.)

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—Count von Bernstorff, former Imperial German ambassador to the United States, in reviewing the former Kaiser's memoirs in the weekly Democratic German, says:
"The Kaiser leaves just three impressions with the reader: First, regard that the memoirs were ever written; second, astonishment over the emperor's sentimentalism which neither learned nor forgot anything;
third, historical inaccuracy combined with an almost feminine conception of things, placing his own person always in the foreground.

"The Kaiser's presentation of facts in the last days of the old regime is just as one-sided as that of the Crown Prince. Both attack Prince Max of Baden, the last Imperial Chancellor, although he did his utmost to save the Hohenzollerns.
"The truth is the Kaiser refused to listen to wise statesmen who tried to save the House by inducing the Kaiser to abdicate in time. Had the Kaiser followed Prince Max's counsel his grandson probably would still be on the throne. Instead, the Kaiser kept on flirting with the Prussian crown. He revealed himself as a particularist while he tried to give the reader the impression he advocated a greater Germany.

"The Kaiser, like many monarchs, never learned the words, 'Too late,' which introduced every revolution in the world's history. The old regime smashed us to pieces, but we are to blame for permitting its existence so long."

Tin-Edged Dipsman's Inventor Dies.

PLAISTON, N. H., Nov. 23.—The inventor of the tin-edged dipsman, Edward Ainsley Sleeper, is dead at the age of 84. He invented the kitchen utensil in 1885 and peddled his product from the Gulf of Mexico to Maine.

The name "Edwin Clapp"

Names define things. Your name defines your character and personality. It is a symbol of what you are.

"Edwin Clapp" is the trade name for exceptional shoes. But it is also the name of a man who founded a business,—his character, his ideals.

And Edwin Clapp built his remarkable business by putting his own ability and his character into every pair of shoes that bore his name.

For nearly seventy years Edwin Clapp Shoes have been made to the standard of that name "Edwin Clapp"—a name that is honored wherever fine shoes are worn and praised by an ever-increasing number of men and women who wear them. Try a pair.

His well-known antagonism to labor unions is not prompted by rage—he has always proved himself a liberal employer—but by his opposition to organized limitation of production, whether by employers or by workers. The blind union leader was perhaps a necessary antidote for the blind boss—but the one is a social parasite as much as the other. Mr. Ford de-

The Reports From California Indicate That the Red Sox Will Have a Chance Next Year

Michigan Aggies to Oppose Billikens Here Tomorrow; Oklahoma Meets the Pikers

St. Louis U. Hopeful of Closing Season With Victory Over Eleven from the North—Washington Faces Virtually Certain Defeat at Hands of Sturdy Sooners.

St. Louis and Washington will close their football seasons tomorrow afternoon, the Billikens playing the Michigan Aggies at Sportsman's Park, while the Pikers oppose the Oklahoma Sooners at Francis Field, starting at 2:30 o'clock. The Oklahoma eleven should score an easy victory over the Pikers, but the Billikens, who have been highly successful in their last few games, hope to send the Michigan eleven back to East Lansing with the short end of the score.

The Aggies will display an eleven with its weight distributed very effectively. The team will average 176 4-11 pounds a man. The lightest player on the visiting eleven will scale only eight pounds under this figure and the heaviest 16 above.

The Aggie line average will be 238, consisting of wing men weighing 175 and 176, tackle 147 and 148, guards 155 and 157 and an 185 pound pivot man.

In the backfield there is also an equal distribution. Richards at quarterback, the lightest man on the team, tips the beam at 145. The full back weighs 178 and the halves 173 and 172.

Coach Steve O'Rourke believes that the Billikens can break up the Aggie defense by speed and work. There is every indication that the forward passing game, at which St. Louis has shown a marked improvement, will be used frequently by the Billiken offense.

Last Game For Three Men.

The contest tomorrow will mark the closing of the football careers of only three of the Billikens—Frank Thornton, guard; Leo Dolan, tackle, and Bill Roshko, half back, of the 1931 Thanksgiving game.

Coach O'Rourke in announcing his lineup for tomorrow's game qualified his list by stating that he was not certain about some of the players. With all of the men are in first class condition, the coach has not determined which combination of stars will prove the most effective against the Aggie play. The regular line consists of Tommy Kelly and Bill Hanson on the left side. There is a possibility of change here as Hanson is a dash-back field star. He will do the Billiken kicking in either position. Hanson is assisted by fullback, McKenna and McCann. McKenna and McCann are expected to start at the halves. Quigley will be the reserve man for the backfield. Either Captain Egler or Schaeffer will call signals. Billiken men performed well at New Orleans.

Sooners Considered Strongest Team On Pikeaway Schedule This Year

The Missouri Valley Conference gridiron season will close here tomorrow afternoon as the Washington University Pikers close their schedule against the University of Oklahoma Sooners at Francis Field at 2:30 o'clock.

The Turkey day classic will conclude a disastrous season for the Pikers, and there is little ground for hope for a reversal of form. With the possible exception of Drake, which crushed the Pikers 21 to 7, Oklahoma is probably the most formidable opponent listed on this year's program.

If the Pikers are to make any sort of fight out of the contest, their reliance will have to depend on speed and a great display of determination. With the exception of Nebraska, Oklahoma is the best physically equipped outfit in the conference. Indeed, it will be pitted against giant when the two teams take up tomorrow.

Both College Teams Too.

The Pikers will be outwitted more than in any previous contest. The Pike line averages 145 pounds, while the Sooner average is 185, an advantage of 40 pounds to the man. The Pike backfield also averages 140 pounds, while the Sooner quarter averages 175, an advantage of 35 pounds. This physical difference alone would discourage the most optimistic Washingtonian from making the family plate on the outcome, but added to this is another advantage in the matter of experience, which greatly favors the followers of Coach Beane Owen.

The one weak spot on the Sooner line, as far as left is concerned, is at center. Schaeffer has regularly pined, who tips the beam at 194 pounds, has been injured and is not expected to be in condition to start against Coach Rider's men. In his place will be Harpford, the lightest man on the team, with a weight of 165. At that, he will outweigh his Pike opponent, Buddy Cantwell, some 16 pounds, but Cantwell is not making concessions in the matter of weight and then outplaying his man.

Usual Hospital List.

The Pikers are in about the same shape they have been all season, rather, however, by the experience gained from five conference defeats. And that is about all that can be said for the little band of hopefuls until Coach Rider has been trying to rebuild into a football machine.

Coach Denny, Koch and Ralph Walsh will not be able to appear in uniform, and today comes the announcement that halfback Chappell and the coach may alternate the field general.

The Billikens went through a short scrimmage against the freshmen last night and the yearlings were given the Aggie plays. O'Rourke frequently interrupted the play and demonstrated the most effective means of stopping the attack and repelling the defense.

The coach was well satisfied with the regular exhibition and believes that the Billikens will win the Turkey Day game, which would make the St. Louis team victorious in seven games, out of the 10 scheduled.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 23.—"Eddie Frank Chabon or Bill Carigan will manage the Boston Red Sox next year," Harry Frazee, owner of the club, said here last night, "but the selection will not take place until the big league meeting in New York next month."

"That's definite," Frazee added. "I will take either one. At the major meeting I may make some trades, too, if the right ones are offered me."

Loss of Scannell Cripples Tigers

St. Louis Boy, Missouri's Quarter, in Hospital—Fowler to Call Signals.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 23.—In spite of the announcement that Bob Scannell, Tiger quarterback, would not start the game against Kansas tomorrow because of his serious illness in the University Hospital here, Columbia stood ready today for the event of two years, that Kansas game.

Regardless of the growing optimism in the Tiger camp, or at least among the spectators around the edge of the Tiger camp, there is a realization that the loss of Scannell is not a matter to be lightly considered. The St. Louis boy was Missouri's best bet at the signal calling position. Getting away to a bad start in the early part of the season, he came through in great shape against Washington and ran the team like a veteran. Fowler is not a bad hand at the signal calling job, but running the team slows up his work at logging the ball, and Missouri is going to need his 140 pounds of drive to beat the Jayhawk.

Kershaw may play a few minutes.

but he is not in condition to play mounted upon, and therefore the burden must fall upon Fowler.

He should be forced from the game, on Lincoln, and that would still further weaken the Tiger drive.

He's regular—that's why!

Oklahoma Will Have Two Captains in Game With Pikers Tomorrow

THERE will be an unusual situation at Francis Field tomorrow afternoon when the football teams of Washington University and Oklahoma University play their annual football game. For the Pikers will be playing without the services of their captain, while the team from Oklahoma, oddly enough, has two captains.

Capt. Denny, who plays right tackle for Washington, was hurt in practice three weeks ago and will not be able to play tomorrow. On the other hand, Marsh, the Sooners' right end, and Edmondson, guard, are regularly elected captains.

The fact of the two captains is explained as follows: At the close of the season last year, Marsh was elected captain of the team. Through a misunderstanding of the Conference regulations, he was thought to have played the legal game. The fact of collegiate football, and hence was declared ineligible to play this year.

Another election took place and Edmondson was chosen captain. After the team had been assembled this fall, it was discovered that Marsh was eligible to play. The team kept both the captains, although Capt. Edmondson lets Capt. Marsh do the honors.

Lewis to Oppose Zbysko in Title Match at Coliseum

Wrestling Champion and Veteran Will Meet Dec. 14, Promoters Announce.

Ed "Strangler" Lewis, heavyweight wrestling champion, will defend his title against Stanislaus Zbysko, former title holder, at the Coliseum, Dec. 14. Arrangements for the match were definitely closed yesterday by Promoter John Contas. Contas has been trying for more than a year to close the match.

In order to land the contest, Contas guaranteed $5000, with a percentage of 50 per cent of the proceeds. The purse will be split 25 per cent to the winner and 25 per cent to the loser. The match will be best out of three falls.

The championship belt, which Lewis now holds, must be in St. Louis six days before the match. The belt has not been seen since it was Zbysko whom Lewis defeated to land the championship. Zbysko, after the World War, captured the belt from Lewis. The coming match will be the supreme effort of the veteran to regain the laurels.

SHORT COVERING IS RULING FORCE ON STOCK MARKET

Advances of Point or Two Fairly Numerous at Close
—Erie Issues Feature—Recessions in Exchange Market.

By Leased Wire From the New York
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The Exchange Post in its copyrighted financial review today says:

"Short covering was still the ruling force in today's stock market. A firm opening was followed by a strength during the first hour. Soon thereafter a sharp rise in the Erie issues, which obviously was designed to facilitate covering operations, brought on a general reaction in which the early gains were lost. Renewed buying in the afternoon, however, left advances of 1 and 2 points fairly numerous throughout both the rail and industrial lists. In the bond department, gilt-edged issues received firm foreign were slightly lower and speculative rails were in-regular. Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent and was raised to 5 per cent during the hour here."

Recessions in Exchange.
"Moderate recessions were fairly frequent among the foreign exchanges, a condition which was considered to be a reflection of the current buying of grain. This was particularly true in the case of sterling, where considerable offerings of grain were being sold. The London market closed at 151 1/2. French francs were again weak and speculative rails were in-regular. The London market closed at 151 1/2. The India market was a new high for the year, 29 1/2 cents."

Steel Industry Situation.
"Mid-week reviews of the steel trade show that the high rate of operations recently attained is being maintained. Production in the Pittsburg district is still a factor, but according to reports from the district being reduced. Meanwhile the trade in watching the price situation closely. The iron is still declining fairly rapidly and the iron age average this commodity now stands at $22.51 a ton as compared with $27.51 last week and $22.24 a ton of a cent.
The situation regarding the de-clivity of finished products is decidedly more stable, but some recessions are expected. Export business remains poor."

BOND ISSUE WOULD DEVELOP BUSINESS, WOMEN ARE TOLD

Authorization of $88,372,500 Issue Would Be Job Insurance for Workers, Speaker Says.

Authorization of the proposed $88,372,500 municipal bond issue for public improvements in the special election Feb. 9, will develop business greatly and prove the best job insurance for the wage earner, Edgar Gengenbach, assistant general secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, declared yesterday afternoon in explaining the bond proposals to the Republican Women's Club at the Jefferson Hotel.

The session was the first non-political meeting of the club since the election Nov. 7. Results of the recent primary to nominate club officers were announced and endorsement was given the proposal to establish a psychiatric clinic in the city. A bill providing for the clinic is pending in Board of Aldermen.

Gengenbach explained the bond election would be an "all separate bond issue, each to be voted on separately on the ballot. One item of $12,000,000 for a new waterworks, will not affect taxation, the bonds to be retired from Water Department revenues.

Issues to Be Spread Out.
The construction program outlined covers a period of years and it is planned to sell the bonds only as needed to pay for construction. Some of the bonds will not be sold for 10 years, Gengenbach said, and will not draw interest in that time. The 20-year serial bonds will distribute the debt over a long period and a great part of the cost will be met by the steadily increasing property values in the city, resulting in a nominal annual charge for retiring the bonds and paying interest, he said.

"This bond issue is an enabling act," he said, "which will permit St. Louis to take action on what it has talked about for years. The course of the city has been too much talk and no action. Everyone profits through the development of business. If the city is not developed, as provided in the bond issue, then the city will go back instead of forward."

City Planner's Plan.
E. J. Russell, chairman of the City Plan Commission, said several of the bond items would provide the foundation for a city beautiful. "The most important item in the program," he said, "is that for the Union Station Plaza, which will give the city a decent front door and remove the present necessity of apologizing to visitors the moment they reach the city."

Support of the two items for improvement and extension of the park and playground system was urged by Russell, who said 26,000 children were without adequate playground facilities and 244,000 people in the city had no neighborhood park facilities.

Passage of the $12,000,000 item for the River Des Peres sewer is vital to city sanitation, Russell declared. "It is a menace to health; the doctors thrive on it and the patients die on it," he added.

Active support of the bond issue by women was urged by Mrs. Frank P. Hays, president, and Mrs. Charles A. Siz.

MAINED GIRL GOOD SWIMMER

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Miss Mary Glindick, 17-year-old freshman at Northwestern University, today is a Class "A" swimmer, despite the fact that she is without an arm and a leg and only recently entered swimming classes. Coach Robinson announced.

Because of the injuries, Coach Robinson said, Miss Glindick hesitated to join the classes, but after 10 lessons she swam 25 yards and now is among the best in her division.

It's going to be hard for some of our defeated Congressmen to be thankful over their Thanksgiving dinner where the piece de resistance is a dish of crow.

Nearly everyone has had to eat crow at some time in his career, but we have yet to hear of anyone who liked it.

THE MISTAKE OF MR. RINGLING

IN his early circus days John Ringling was standing in front of a one-ring tent in Michigan, acting as the ticket taker. To him there walked up a man who was followed by a pack of youngsters.

"Count these boys," said the newcomer, briskly.

Ringling let the lads go in one by one until the last of them was under canvas.

"Thirty-seven in all," he said.

"That will be $18.50," he said.

"Eighteen-fifty!" echoed the stranger. "For what?"

"Admissions," said Ringling.

"Fifty cents a head for those kids."

"Admissions be damned," said the stranger. "I didn't ask you to admit 'em; I asked you to count 'em."

A Peacemaker Who Blessed Himself

The peacemaker is blessed. Sometimes he is careful as well. As witness this instance which was told to me by an eyewitness. At least he said he was an eyewitness.

The proprietor of a drug store in a small Indiana town was issuing from the front door of his place when a small boy came tearing round the corner at top speed, with his head down, and butted squarely into him.

"Hey, kid," demanded the druggist, "what's the matter?"

"I'm tryin' to keep two boys from gittin' into a fight," panted the youngster.

"Who are the boys?" asked the druggist.

"I'm one of 'em."
